

Here she comes

I want a lover with a red hot soul I need someone who isn't up the pole ... here she comes

I saw a scratch on my door traces on the floor
a sizzling noise in the roar an undiscovered shore

It took me some of your time
to lose control
I don't want another eye-rhyme
for my soul
and I can't tell if it's love crime
to lose control

I want someone to play the leading role I want a lover who can soothe my soul ... here she comes

Guess it's more than a dream cause it's a little too dear I'll abandon my scheme it's such a pleasant fear

It took me some of your time
to lose control
I don't want another eye-rhyme
for my soul
and I can't tell if it's love crime
to lose control

I want a lover with a red hot soul ... here she comes
