

Hot spots

There's a party getting started at the end of the street no invitations left to decline and no one's coming over to peep over my shoulder the place is fine but this ain't the time

Big boss man trying to tell me what to do I can't find a smiling face there's a fussin' and a fightin' beatin' and a bitin' the time is fine but this ain't the place

In-crowds, hot spots I can't say that I didn't try a lot sometimes I throw myself back into the ring just to find out
I don't miss a single thing

I'm on my way back home through the outskirts of nowhere and I just spend my very last dime but I know there's someone waiting and I'm stumblin' straight in the finest place at the perfect time
