

A minute away

you can write a book tame a horse or plant a tree everything you do in your life you do for free there's a bunch of silly thoughts and a dream in black and white you tried to get it straight with a straightened appetite stoppin' at the gas station tryin' to make a choice all you gotta do is listen to the voice here you come a runnin' beggin' for advice I gave it to you once I ain't gonna give it twice you know he's just a boy tryin' to step into the fire every step that fails is ment to take him higher what do you say? Love is just a minute away life holds a lot of treasures though not for eyeryone one man's pain is another man's fun maybe what you say is gonna get you in the end but the end's a little thing you can't keep in your own hand steppin' 'to a churchhouse lookin' for a drink that's the only way what you eat is what you drink now here you come a laughin' lookin' for the spot remember when you touch it it might get a little hot you know he's just a boy...

and it feels so strong inside and a thought comes to your mind that it might as well feel fine to hold someone all they do is play they all went astray that's all you gotta say: love is just a minute away
